Some to the subject on the Bench; and taking this by the natives themselves that something should be done with regard to it, it may be considered probable that the question may shortly be brought forward with a view to meeting the difficulty long felt. It has often proved a matter almost of impossibility to ascertain who are actually the inconveniences of this in a commercial point of view are obvious. A remedy to this was suggested some time ago in these columns by the adoption of the plan in force in France of compulsory registration of the partners in every house. No doubt if this plan were adopted, and if it were possible fully to enforce it, the end in view would be attainedbut it is perhaps hardly necessary to point out that it will be advisable before anything be done that the exact working of such measurebe enquired into, as unless it could be fully carried out, it might lead to perhaps greater instance, as it is distinctly understood that the inconveniences than it would remedy. Hongs is obtained, but it does not secure the pogistration of the actual partners, and is founded upon the protective system which forms the basis of business all over the Colestial Empire. The houses of business and shops are licensed by the local officials and obtain an elaborate document setting forth this fact; for which they have to pay a large

It is only, we believe, shops or firms thus licensed that are taken as members of the Guilds, the two arrangements working in in some way together. It is to be remembered that there is always a likelihood of any Ordinance on a subject of this kind which may be passed in Hongkong, becoming worked practically to carry out among the Chinese not the actual provisions, but some oustoin supply Bill for 1873 first. This Bill was read established among them by their own way of doing business; and there is just possibility that registering the names partners in Hongs might be made a means of establishing some quast protective system in Hongkong in the same way-to give an illustration from smaller things-that the market Ordinance has been made the means of establishing a species of monopoly Of course, it is impossible to say that there is an absolute likelihood of this, but it is been made. theory of human nature in four propositions, of which we may omit the last, as it does not concern the matter in hand. He says :-- 1. Man is a duality, consisting of an organized spiritual form, evolved coincidently with and permeating the physical body, and having correspondent organs and development. Death is the separation of this quality, and offects no change in spirit, morally or intellectually. 3. Progressive evolution of the intellectual and moral nature is the destiny of individuals; the knowledge, attainments, and experience of earth life forming the basis of spirit life." How and to what class of people does this theory "suggest," as Mr. Wallace gays it does. "motives more powerful than any which either religion or philo-sophy can supply?" In the first place, whatever may be the value of motives founded on beliefe as to the Doity, spiritualism seems to supply none. People who ask questions or this matter " never ket more than opinions, or more frequently the statement that the spirits have no more actual knowledge of these subjects than they had while on earth." The cook-house on deck has never been measured for tounage. In July, 1873, by Oircular No. 643, the Board of Trade choice numbers, $5671 to $5682 on credit, high informed Measuring Surveyors that they were numbers 25,000 and over, only in two hands. not to deduct galleys from the measurement Some 500 chests supposed to be the stock this for Crew space. They will not hands to a small extent at $550 to $555 dash be so included under the Act of 1874 provided all the spaces before enumerated do not exceed 5 per cent.: but in ships whose tennage would be increased by the change there would very likely be a desire to make the galley below. The cook house is under deck in a majority of, large ships, and, therefore, the alteration in tonnage cannot touch them. Some first-class steamers, however, have their cook-houses on deck for passengers, and others have a second Sundries. galley for the use of the Crew. No distinctionis drawn in the Bill between cooking places for Crews and those for passengers. Water-closets were made compulsory by the Act of 1867; and where these can be erected below without monopolising the cargo or passengers' space, they are so appointed for the Crew, as required by the Statute. The best place for them, however, in a sanitary point of view, is on deck. Many considerate Shipowners have enclosed the wheelnot for the purpose of earning more freight or passage money, but for the sake of sheltering the Helmaman from the wind and weather. These covered in spaces are now to be added to the allowance for crew space, which is altogether wrong in principle. Five per cent, of the gross tonnage may be a sufficient allowance; but if a Shipownor sets apart a large space, and provides for a sick room, he will be taxed for all above that percentage.

BILLIARI TABLES

A LAZARUS & Co.'s Billiard Tables are iow the only ones appreciated in India as a long and stendy experience extending over 50 years has proved them to be the best and most suitable for the olimate. C. L. & Co. have received a large number of very flattering testimonials from all parts of India, China, Bur-mali, Ceylon, Manila, Java, Straits, and Persia, testilying to the superior make and quality of their Billiard Tables, and while thanking their Friends and Patrons in China for the liberal support so long extanded to their firm, would in soliciting further patronage, beg to mention the following facts which have conduced to the success their chorts baye hitherto met with on an entirely new principle, introduced by C. L. and Co., and unlike that adopted by English
